SHORT PROFILE

I am currently a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Open Learning programmes, School of Open and Distance Learning, Open Distance and e-Learning Campus. I have 13 years' experience in programmes management, teaching, research and evaluation at the University level. My major achievement as a coordinator of the University of Nairobi activities was in 2016 when I and others consolidated various University academic Units in Kisumu into one entity -The Kisumu Campus Complex. As a coordinator, Research Evaluation and lifelong Learning courses we have managed to develop and implement three market driven lifelong learning short courses that have so far generated over K.Sh. 2 Million for the University. Over years, I have also assisted in developing various undergraduate and postgraduate programmes for School of Open and Distance Learning (SODL) and University of Nairobi Institute of Tropical and Infectious Diseases (UNITID) in my area of specialization. The most current programme being a two year Fellowship programme in Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E). Currently I am a member of University Strategic Planning Committee which is charged with responsibility of crafting University of Nairobi strategy for 2018 to 2023. At the community level I am the chairman of International Project Monitoring and Evaluation Society (IPROMES), an organization that consolidates project monitoring and evaluation professionals for the purpose of impacting positively in sustainable development.

I hold a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Educational Research and Evaluation from Catholic University of Eastern Africa (CUEA), Master of Education Planning from the University of Nairobi and Bachelor of Education Arts Degree from Kenyatta University. Among short courses I have undertaken include training in PhD supervision, Principles of Open and Distance Learning and Certified Microsoft innovative educator. My current interest is the areas of transformative performance management practices that can revolutionize the ODeL mode of delivery.
